

Bank of America

Bank of America is a well-known banking company dedicated to providing opportunities for their customers and clients throughout their financial lives. They wanted their brand to be recognizable on the busy New York street in order to make themselves more available to their customers. Because they're a franchise they also had very specific specifications we had to work with and design for.

Completed Bank of America awning project – professional and inviting

Capitol only uses OSHA-certified installers

We worked with Bank of America to fit their corporate specifications, and because our local architecture and environment pose particular challenges, we adapted their specs to fit their NYC building. We built and installed a canopy structure as well as a banner for the side of their building.

We have worked with every major bank in the NYC area and we understand the unique deadlines you face due to federal regulations. You need to know, beyond a shadow of a doubt, that your installation crew is going to show up exactly on time.

Family owned and operated since 1947, you can count on Capitol's award-winning design team to provide the highest quality awnings, canopies, and signs for your bank – right when you need them.

Made to Stand Up to Northeast Winters

Freezing temperatures, harsh winds, pollution, sand and salt air, as well as summer's hot sun can take a toll on your awnings. Maximum durability depends on use of the right materials and skillful engineering – and we provide both! Materials, angle of installation, even stitching and choice of printing ink can make all the difference. Our awning specialists take all of this into account when recommending the best solution for your bank.

Making Your Vision a Reality

Oftentimes, your corporate offices will provide the exact designs and specifications you need, but you can count on us from concept to completion, too. We can help with initial creative design assistance, full-color autoCAD engineering drawings, and custom fabrication in state-of-the-art facilities using the latest high-tech equipment. We finish up your project using only OSHA-certified installers to ensure your awning will remain secure and sturdy. Along the way, we can provide valuable industry-specific insights into functional and aesthetic considerations. Because we understand that many financial institutions have complex decision-making processes, we'll coordinate with the numerous departments and individuals who need to be kept in the loop. We can even assist with local permitting if needed. It's our goal to be your partner in your project. We've done this before!
